150 YEARS OF EXCEPTIONAL CARE

SAN FRANCISCO
GENERAL HOSPITAL
FOUNDATION

The Sesquicentennial of Our Community Hospital

From baby booms to housing booms and tech booms, San Francisco has seen it all. Yet this city can still surprise us. Its resilience. Its love. Its pride.

And Zuckerberg San Francisco General Hospital and Trauma Center (ZSFG) has been here for all of it—through natural disasters, pandemics, and plagues. For the birth of new ideas, new communities, and, of course, a whole lot of newborns.

2022 marks a milestone for San Francisco: the 150th Anniversary of ZSFG. From its humble beginnings in August 1872 as a small wooden structure to the expansive, state-of-the-art facility we know today, ZSFG has stood steadfast throughout—and been a major player in—many significant historical events in our city. And today the Hospital is still here, providing compassionate care for the whole person and the whole city.

The Hospital has served our community through well over a century of natural disasters and public health emergencies, including the 1906 and 1989 earthquakes and fires; the Spanish Flu epidemic; the HIV/AIDS crisis; and the COVID-19 pandemic, all the while ensuring that our patients receive the highest quality health care. ZSFG is a beacon of public health leadership and equity, with treatment protocols developed here now used all over the world. And, as the only Level 1 Trauma Center serving San Francisco and northern San Mateo counties, ZSFG is always here should you or I experience an emergency.

The Hospital's continuing legacy is equitable access, compassionate treatment, and extraordinary health care for all. And now, Zuckerberg San Francisco General is planning for the next 150 years.
